Theater for a New City, 155 1st Avenue

Last month's Critical Mass ride was the largest one ever in New York City. Many people found this exhilarating; others found it cause for concern.

We are at an important stage in the growth of Critical Mass. Let's keep it strong and a positive force for New York City bicyclists, as it is for bicyclists in hundreds of cities around the world. Please come to the open forum to discuss your concerns and share your ideas.
